

WPAW CELEBRATION TOOLKIT

Water Professionals Appreciation Week is an opportunity to recognize and celebrate the vital work of water professionals—and your agency plays an important role in making the week a success.

This toolkit provides resources to help your agency participate, celebrate your water professionals and share the story of the essential work they do every day. New this year, the toolkit includes customizable Canva templates and a sticker kit to give agencies even more ways to engage their employees, customers and communities.

Inside, you'll also find ready-to-use graphics, a video template, a bill insert and other resources to help you make the most of Water Professionals Appreciation Week.

To make social media participation easy, we've included short posts for X as well as longer posts that can be used on platforms such as Facebook and LinkedIn. Use these resources as-is or customize them to showcase the people, careers and work that keep California's water systems running.
